THE BEGIN-SADAT CENTER
FOR STRATEGIC STUDIES

Call for Proposals

Research Grants Offered by the BESA Center for Strategic Studies

The Begin-Sadat (BESA) Center for Strategic Studies at Bar-Ilan University promotes research on issues of national security in the Middle East. The Center is interested in policy-oriented studies with specific reference to Israel, its neighbors, and strategic actors in the region.

The Center welcomes research proposals by scholars from diverse disciplines. The criteria for approving a research grant are as follows: the quality of the proposed study, the interest of the Center in the proposed subject, the length of time required to carry out the study, and the requested budget.

The Center reserves the right to be the first to publish the studies it assists financially. If the study is published in other academic forums, the author must appropriately acknowledge the source of funding for the research. The BESA Center must also be informed of any publicity given to a study that it assisted.

The maximum grant is $10,000.

Please submit research proposals to:

Prof. Efraim Inbar
Director, BESA Center for Strategic Studies
Bar-Ilan University, Ramat Gan 52900 Israel

Guidelines for submitting research proposals:

The researcher must submit a detailed proposal that includes the following items:

1. Description of the research project and tentative table of contents
2. The purpose and importance of the research
3. The structure of the research
4. Methods of implementation
5. Timeline for completion
6. Requested budget
7. Bibliography relevant to the proposed subject
8. Biography and list of publications

Items 1-6 must not exceed six double-spaced printed pages.